Councilmen Near Vote on Boulevard Lights

THIRD READING SCHEDULED FOR MONDAY NIGHT

More Wrangling Prevails
In Friday's Session To Hear Ordinance

4 TO 3 BALLOT LOOMS

"Railroading" Is Charged By Steinhauser

Second reading of the ordinance for a 10-year street-lighting contract with the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., and more wrangling among councilmen concerning the proposal, featured the special meeting Friday night.

Another called meeting will be held Monday night for final consideration of the contract. Councilmen boosting the legislation desire to have it passed before the first of December, making it effective before new councilmen take office. The ordinance becomes effective 30 days after passage. Only two members of the present council will be in the new organization.

"I have a few words I'd like to get off my chest," Councilman Ben Gordon said after the ordinance had been given its second reading. "I'm not in favor of a 10-year contract. The city is now in debt $3,500 for street lighting. Under this new contract we will pay about $1,000 more a year. If you installed the right type of lights I would be willing to make a personal donation and there are other businessmen who would do the same."

Tull Barnes Speaks
Councilman Tull Barnes said he would like to see Circleville have an expensive white-way, but the merchants and taxpayers could not afford to pay that amount of money. He recalled delays on other utility legislation before council that had resulted in losses to consumers.

Councilman E. S. Neuding said he believed council should act on the ordinance without further delay and "quit the monkey business." C. O. Leist, president pro tem, said he had talked with various business men and that they favored the boulevard lighting system. "We should give the people what they want," Mr. Leist declared.

Although several men were gathered in the council chamber to learn what action would be taken, only one of the group, R. L. Brehmer, made any remarks about the contract. He urged council to take action on the legislation. "I think you have had expressions from

BARS ERECTED AS ELLIS ISLAND JUST ANOTHER EPISODE IN LIFE OF MAGDA

Magda de Fontanges, French adventuress, who has been barred from entering the United States.

Count Charles de Chambrin, former French ambassador to Rome, who was shot by Mme. de Fontanges in a fury when she blamed him for ending a supposed romance of hers with Premier Mussolini.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—Uncle Sam's labor department officials in Washington have erected a definite bar in the path of Magda de Fontanges. At the capital, the board of review of the immigration and naturalization bureau which is one of the labor department's agencies, has upheld a former decision of Ellis island authorities in New York who had previously barred Magda de Fontanges on the ground of 'moral turpitude.'

Thus, the 32-year-old French actress who since the spring of this year has been front page news throughout the world, sees her ambitious American plans shattered on the rocks of Ellis Island which in the past have become the jinx of many undesirable immigrants. Her deportation, however, has been delayed pending a court appeal which her lawyers instigated from a decision of Judge Mandelbaum in federal court upholding the previous decisions that she was guilty of a crime involving moral turpitude. Meanwhile she was granted limited freedom on Manhattan under $1,000 bail, with the stipulation she make no public appearance of any kind until her case is disposed of in the courts.

Isolated
Magda had come to the United States for a theatrical or night club engagement. To her great chagrin, she was taken off the boat upon arrival and lodged on Ellis Island.

She is the daughter of Jean Coraboeuf, a French portrait painter of some reputation. At the age of 18 she was the wife of M. Yves Lafarriere, assistant police prefect of the Lozere department, who was her senior by almost 20 years. A few years later, Magda (whose full name is Madeleine) divorced him and turned to the stage where, however, she was never very successful. She played several minor roles at the Odeon and Capucines theaters in Paris and also wrote a mystery play that was produced but failed to impress Parisians greatly.

Next, she turned to newspaper work. First, she wrote articles on foreign subjects, especially for L'Ami du Peuple, a newspaper of the Right-Wing Conservatives which belongs to Francois Coty, the French perfume maker. Then, she became involved in some petty mystery play that was produced but failed to impress Parisians greatly.

Device on Car Opens and Closes Lutz' Garage Door

E. W. Lutz, manager of the Citizens Telephone Co., whose hobby is tinkering with electrical labor-saving devices, has a new one on his garage that is creating considerable interest in the neighborhood.

Garage doors and lights are operated automatically from his automobile as he drives up the alley beside his E. Main street home.

Approximately 50-feet from his garage is a magnetic switch installed underground in the alley. This switch is operated by a magnetic coil suspended under his car and energized by the storage battery.

When driving down the alley Mr. Lutz pulls a small switch on his car that operates the magnetic coil. This coil operates the underground switch. Lights are turned on the garage and the doors unlock and open automatically after driving into the garage he closes the doors with a wall switch.

Works Outward, Too
When taking the car out of the garage he pushes the wall switch, which opens the doors, and closes them with the magnetic apparatus on the car as he drives out the alley. A white stake in the alley marks the location of the magnetic switch.

In the event the underground switch fails to operate a tumbler lock at the side of doors operates the electrical door-opening mechanism.

Since the door-opening device locks the doors, arrangements had to be worked out to open them if the current should be off.

The Lutz home contains more electrical gadgets than any residence in the city, it is believed. Automatic switches turn on lights in clothes presses, closets and cellar rooms when doors are opened. Every room in the home has special heat controls. Each room contains a thermostat. Blowers connected with the furnace regulate the room temperatures.

TRUCKER FINED $10

H. O. Eveland, justice of peace, imposed a fine of $10 and costs on Charles Thomas Taynor, Columbus truck driver, Friday, on a charge of failure to stop at the sign at Routes 22 and 104, west of the city. The arrest was made by H. R. Curtis, state patrolman. Taynor paid his account.

AGED MAN FOUND DEAD OF BURNS IN RURAL HOME

Coroner Says James Melvin, 82, Victim Of Accident Tuesday Night

FRIEND LOCATES BODY

Copies Of Newspaper Found In His Mailbox

Burns suffered Tuesday night when he dropped a lamp are believed to have caused the death of James Melvin, 82, found dead in his home on the Island road near the river bridge, Saturday.

Just what occurred to cause Mr. Melvin to drop the lamp is a mystery to Coroner C. E. Bowers and Sheriff Charles Radcliff, who investigated the case.

Mr. Melvin's body was found on the kitchen floor. He apparently died without struggle. From his appearance the officers believed he had been sitting by the stove. He had removed his shoes. They believed he picked up the lamp to retire and may have suffered a heart attack, causing him to fall. The lamp broke, flames igniting his clothing. All the clothing above his waist had been burned and his body was seared. The fire did not spread in the home.

Time of Death Decided
Officers set the time of his death as Tuesday night. His issue of The Daily Herald for Tuesday, delivered Wednesday morning, was still in the mail box with later issues.

Arthur Miller, courthouse fireman, was believed to have been the first to discover the tragedy. Mr. Miller frequently made visits to the Melvin home and brought Mr. Melvin to the city to make purchases and take care of business matters. Cary Kendall, a neighbor of Melvin's, notified Sheriff Charles Radcliff.

Coroner Bowers returned a verdict of accidental death. The body was removed to the Mader funeral home pending arrangements for services. Mr. Melvin is survived by no immediate relatives.

SCIOTO TOWNSHIP TAX RATE GOES UP; HEARINGS END

The county budget commission completed its work Friday. The final tax rates established were those for Washington and Scioto townships.

Washington township's rate for 1938 remains the same as the 1937 charge, $10.30 per $1,000 property valuation.

In Scioto township an increased levy for school operating expenses raised the rate to $15 per $1,000 valuation. The rate was $12.50 in 1937. Although voters of the township approved a three-mill levy at the last election for school operating expenses, only two and a half mills were charged for 1938.

On the budget commission are Prosecutor George Gerhardt, Treasurer R. G. Colville, and Auditor Forrest Short.

LANCASTER YOUTH KILLED AS SANDBANK COLLAPSES

LANCASTER, Nov. 27—Neal Miller, 16, was suffocated when caught in a cave-in of a sandbank on the farm of William Graf, in west Lancaster. City police and firemen worked for more than an hour with a pulmotor and artificial respiration in an effort to save the youth's life.

Miller and three companions were playing on the bank, which was about ten feet high. Miller was caught when it collapsed.

LOS ANGELES HILL TWO BLOCKS LONG FALLS WITH ROAR

Spectators Remain Through Night Hoping That Gigantic Avalanche Would Take Place; Police Kept Busy

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27—(UP)—The "moving hill" of Elysian park collapsed today with the force and noise of an earthquake, to the delight of a swarm of spectators which stayed up all night to watch the thrilling scene.

Despite all the perils of the avalanche and the night's bedlam that it created throughout the city, nobody apparently was hurt and the damage was confined to a buckled and buried stretch of highway and a bridge approach.

The hill was two blocks long and 400 feet high before it began to sway and sink a month ago with spasmodic jerks from some mysterious subterranean disturbance. Last night, in a prelude to its big upheaval, the hill began shedding great boulders large as automobiles, which crashed down across Riverside drive and threatened to destroy a dozen small houses and slopes between the hill and the Los Angeles river valley down which the debris fell.

Power Line Breaks
Then, at 9:15 p. m., one huge section of the hill came tumbling down. Workers and residents scurried for their lives, sirens shrieked, police and ambulances came from all directions, a power line snapped and the whole area was plunged in darkness, spectators tugged at the police lines a block from the path of danger, wild rumors were afloat of crews of men buried alive. It was a night such as this city of the famed movie colony had not seen in years.

The anti-climax came early today when most of the remainder toppled down in another great roar. Police again fought with the crowd to restrain it from rushing headlong into disaster. Engineers estimated that 1,500,000 tons of dirt, boulders and uprooted trees came down in the first slide, and nearly that much in the second.

Debris reached nearly to the doorsteps of the row of buildings but they escaped every hurtling boulder.

CONGRESS READY TO DEBATE BILLS TO AID FARMERS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—(UP)—Congress was ready today to devote all of next week to a two-way battle on farm legislation. A nearly solid Republican front will continue to batter the senate farm bill when that chamber convenes Monday morning. In the house opposition to its bill, to be introduced next week, developed over contentions that the measure is distastefully compulsory and weak.

In the house a corn bloc of 50 congressmen demanded amendments to provide marketing quotas for smaller crops than provided for and to make storage loans to farmers mandatory when marketing quotas are invoked for corn, wheat and cotton.

Rep. August H. Andresen, R. Minn., of the house agriculture committee, prepared a "voluminous" minority report attacking nearly the entire measure but with particular emphasis on penalty features for non-co-operators.

FUEL SHORTAGE CAUSES PLANE CRASH; TWO DIE

GREENWOOD, S. C., Nov. 27—(UP)—Lack of sufficient gasoline was blamed today for the crash of a U. S. army airplane in which Lieutenants T. C. Morgan and L. C. Woods of Randolph field, Texas, were killed.

The plane clipped the tops off several trees and plunged nose first in the woods near here last night. Woods was killed instantly. Morgan, hurled 25 feet from the wreckage, died en route to a hospital.

Lieutenant J. W. Black, of Fort Stier, said he had learned the fliers took off from Fort Benning, Ga., but he did not know their destination.

MOVE TO RAISE PEOPLE'S BUYING POWER IS URGED

Mass Purchasing Stressed As Federation Drafts Major Program

CO-OPERATION IS ASKED

Prompt Payment of Federal Compensation Demanded

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—(UP)—The American Federation of Labor proposed to the administration today a six-point program intended to halt the business recession by strengthening mass purchasing power.

The proposal closely parallels suggestions made by President Roosevelt to restore the nation's economic equilibrium. It seeks harmony between capital and labor and their co-operation with proposed federal stimuli to industry.

Mr. Roosevelt is accelerating efforts to aid business. He will send to congress Monday a message outlining ways of stimulating the lagging construction industry and alleviating a shortage of homes.

Utility Accord Sought
He has ordered lieutenants to continue efforts toward an accord with private utilities and free a backlog of capital estimated at $2,600,000,000. He has directed federal agencies to place orders for necessary materials as soon as possible to give industry a $245,000,000 shot in the arm through governmental purchases.

The president said yesterday that he would be glad to see congress revise taxes as soon as legislators desire, and worked toward a balanced budget by suggesting a reduction of federal highway expenses by approximately $120,000,000. A message to congress suggesting methods of accomplishing this will be dispatched Tuesday.

The A. F. of L. program was announced coincidentally with several of these developments. It suggested:

1. Maintenance of wages and employment at the highest possible level with firm determination to avoid wage cuts.

2. Raising of wages in any industry where sustained demand and profitable operations make it possible.

3. Stimulation of production and employment in heavy industries by encouraging plans for plant expansion and equipment purchases; encouragement of building in all classifications. The

BRITISH EXECUTE MOSLEM LEADER FOR TERRORISM

JERUSALEM, Nov. 27—(UP)—Sheik Farhan El Sadi, 70-year-old Moslem leader, one of those responsible for recent Arab terrorism, was hanged today.

He was the first man condemned by the new British military courts established on Nov. 18 after the worst outbreak of Jewish-Arab acts of terrorism since the rioting of 1929 when 200 persons were killed.

The military court here began its second case—the trials of two of three other Arabs arrested with the sheik in a raid by British military forces in Mazar, North Palestine, last Sunday.

The military courts are functioning under a decree providing the death penalty for possession of firearms, sabotage, intimidation and terrorism.

About This And That In Many Sports

PROSPECTS FOR 1938

Although there is no one who knows just what will happen between now and next football season, it is fun to look ahead to consider what the prospects for the 1938 high school grid season will be. First of all a pair of ends must be developed, and indications are that dependable and hard-hitting Johnny Noggle will be at one of them with Don Jackson, Bill Heffner, Chuck Zaenglein, and several others battling for the other. Bob Liston is good enough for a tackle post and his brother, Russ, who will be a sophomore, or Dub Nelson, may knock off the other unless Art Rooney is eligible to play. The guards will be well-handled with veteran Gene Arledge returning to action, and Screwy Martin and Tom Harden battling for the other. Bob Bowsher, out this year with a broken shoulder, will be available for center.

THREE LETTER MEN BACK

The backfield will include two freshman letter-men, Marv Jenkins and Frank Woodward, and Paul Walters, with a fourth asprant not yet determined. If a hard-smashing and clean-blocking fullback can be found from the ranks of the squad, then watch out for some pretty running. Woodward, a flash on the offensive but a dub on the defensive this year, will probably learn a lot about the many art of smacking them down before next Fall arrives.

CAPTAIN IN DOUBT

Just who will captain the 1938 team is in doubt. The letter-men, who will be named Monday evening at the Kiwanis club football banquet, will choose the leader. Gene Arledge looms as a possibility, because he will be one of the few seniors on next year's team. It is possible that letter-men will name a junior, picking Bob Liston, Bob Bowsher or Paul Walters.

MANY NOTABLES ATTEND

The Kiwanis' banquet promises to be a real highlight. Fritz Mackey, Ohio State's freshman coach, will be the speaker. He has promised to bring two of the Buckeyes' football stars with him in addition to a couple of reels of motion pictures, and Johnny Neblett, popular radio announcer. The evening starts at 6:30 o'clock in Hanley's tearoom. Tiger letter-men, two managers and Coach Jack Landrum will be guests of the club. Stogges and members of the improvement association that furnished lights at the varsity field are welcome to attend. Places are being prepared for 75 persons.

TUMBLE DOWN STAIRS WORTH $100 PER STEP

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—A fall down a flight of stairs is worth $100 per step.

This was the opinion of a Supreme Court jury which awarded Mrs. Mary A. Kinsella, 57, of Rochester, $1,800 for an 18-step fall down a stairway in a four-family apartment house.

The verdict was against the owners of the building.

How about a touch of geranium pink at the neckline of a black wool dress? Smart, eh, what? It is a Molyneux touch.

1937 GRID YEAR NEARS ITS END ON FIVE FRONTS

Rose Bowl Contender May Be Determined With Panthers, Rams Busy

Trojans in New York

102,281 To See Service Schools in Action

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 — (UP)—The 1937 football season comes to a virtual close today with the East and South sharing national attention.

With the exception of a few scattered games through December and the usual "bowl" clashes on New Year's day, today's battling will mark the end of the campaign.

From a national standpoint the two most important clashes are N.Y.U.-Fordham at New York and Duke-Pittsburgh at Durham, N. C. However the largest crowd of the season, 102,281 persons, will fill Philadelphia's municipal stadium for the Army-Navy game, a traditional battle which sells itself on color alone because both elevens have had dismal seasons.

A fourth banner game will be played at South Bend, Ind., with Notre Dame concluding its season against the Trojans of Southern California. Once on a time this one usually determined the national title but this Saturday it's just another football game. Stanford, defeated twice by Columbia by 7-0 scores in the 1934 Rose Bowl game and last season — meets Columbia at New York in another attempt to gain revenge for the past upset defeats.

Favorites Listed

Favorites in these five games are Pittsburgh, Fordham, Army, Stanford and Notre Dame.

If Pittsburgh and Fordham win — and both are heavily favored — they will have completed the season with but one blemish, their scoreless tie.

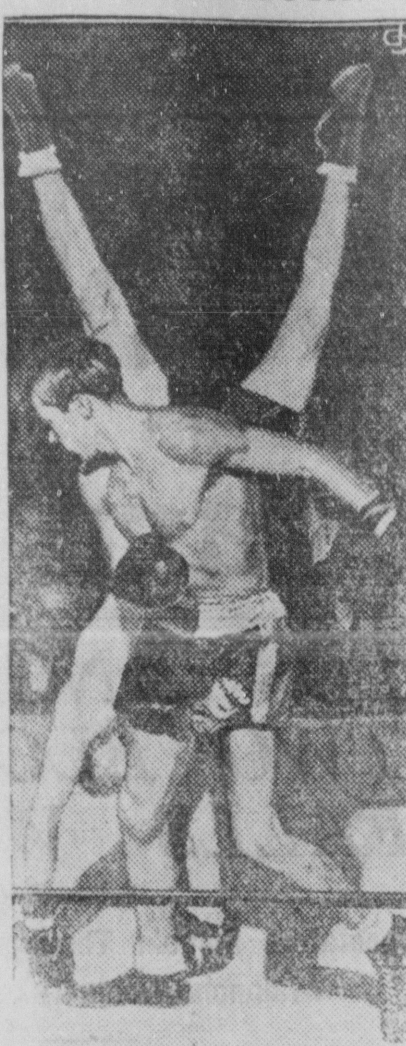

The outcome should help determine California's selection of an eastern Rose Bowl opponent. Alabama, which completed a perfect season by halting Vanderbilt on Thanksgiving, appears to have the inside track but a smashing triumph by Fordham or Pittsburgh or both would apparently make a wide open race of it.

Another undefeated team — Santa Clara — and two other unbeaten but tied elevens — Villanova and Holy Cross — will attempt to complete perfect seasons over the week-end. Santa Clara, hoping for another invitation to the Sugar Bowl, meets Gonzaga tomorrow and Villanova meets Loyola of Los Angeles. Holy Cross concludes today against Boston college.

Three hot games are scheduled in the Southwest. Southern Methodist battles Texas Christian, and Rice, the conference leader, meets Baylor in conference games. Outside, Centenary tackles Oklahoma's Aggies. Rice can virtually clinch the title by defeating Baylor, which is in second place. If it loses, the outcome may depend on next week's Rice-S.M.U. game.

Seersucker—true seersucker in prints and plaids, are being ordered for southern resort wear.

What a Sock!

RAY BUCKLEY must have swung clear from the floor to set Earl Nore on his head in this manner. He did but Earl came back to win the decision. Action is from an amateur bout in Los Angeles.

WHIZZER IS NOT SEEKING CAREER OF GRID WORK

DENVER, Nov. 27 — (UP)—

Byron (Whizzer) White, a Phi Beta Kappa student who is the nation's leading football scorer, would rather be a Rhodes Scholar than an all-America hero and it was not unlikely today that he would be both.

He finished his collegiate football career Thanksgiving day with the finest individual performance in the history of the Rocky Mountain conference by defeating Denver university, 34 to 7, almost single-handed. Today he was concerned with the real triumph toward which he had aimed his collegiate career—a Rhodes scholarship.

National publicity throughout Colorado's university's undefeated and untied season apparently had left no mark on the serious 185-pound youth of 20, who wants to become a lawyer.

He was asked today at his home in Wellington, a town of 533 persons in North Central Colorado, whether he had any intentions of playing professional football.

"No," he said. "I don't know anything about it and don't care to discuss it."

His main ambition, he said, was the scholarship.

White's Phi Beta Kappa honors his straight-A average, the fact that he has played three sports—football, baseball and basketball—and worked his way through school, make his Rhodes scholarship qualifications as bright as his chances of making the all-America teams.

PASTOR BEATEN BY MANN, NEXT FOE FOR FARR

Fighter, Who Stayed With Joe Louis 10 Rounds, Whipped Badly

EX-COLLEGE THUMPED

Jacobs Announces Battle For Jan. 21

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 — (UP)—Nathan Mann, New Haven, Conn., heavyweight, and Tommy Farr, British challenger who stayed 15 rounds against Joe Louis, will fight a 10-round match in Madison Square Garden Jan. 21. Promoter Mike Jacobs announced today.

Mann earned the shot by beating Bob Pastor, the former New York university football player, in an uninteresting 10-round affair booed by 6,000 fans in the garden last night.

The Connecticut cloutier tried to make a fight of it all the way, but he was handicapped by Pastor's continuous holding and backpeddling, the same tactics he used in staying 10 rounds with Louis early this year.

The United Press score sheet gave Mann five rounds, Pastor two and called three even. Referee Artie Donovan took the fourth and fifth from Pastor for low punches, but Mann had a wide margin in both sessions.

A more experienced fighter might have knocked Pastor out. Mann's awkwardness in following up some tremendous wallops enabled Pastor to stay the route.

A hard right hook to the jaw sent Bob spinning to the canvas in the first round, but he got up before the count started and hung on until the bell. In the fourth, fifth and sixth, Mann rocked Pastor to his heels, but could not put him away.

Mann weighed 185½; Pastor, 183.

PACIFIC BRIDGED BY MILK ROUTE OF 4,200 MILES

HONOLULU (UP)—The colonization of Guam, Midway and Wake islands for the Clipper service between the Pacific coast and China has resulted in the creation of the longest milk route in the world—and also the fastest.

The route begins at Honolulu and ends at Guam, with Midway and Wake islands as the only other two stops on the route. It is 4,200 miles in length.

With the erection on the three islands of hotels where Clipper passengers spend the night, and where they are occasionally held up by bad weather, the question of daily provisions of milk, cottage cheese and other dairy products arose. None of the islands contains pasturage that would permit keeping cows for a home supply.

As a consequence, all shipments are made from here by Clipper service.

Fresh bottle milk is taken aboard at 6:30 a. m. and flown to Midway, a distance of 1,380 miles for the first delivery. A second leg of 1,260 miles is then flown, including the crossing of the International date line, to Midway for the second delivery and finally a 1,560-mile hop to Guam for the remainder of the bottles and packages.

The service enables trans-Pacific air passengers to have fresh cream for their morning coffee, cold milk for lunch, and cottage cheese for dinner.

Despite the wide range of temperatures and shifting elevations from sea level to more than two miles above the surface, the milk needs no special preparation other than pasteurization.

Insulin is under consideration as a preventative of common colds.

Metzger of Miami Leads Ohio Gridders in Score

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27—(UP)—For the first time in the decade individual scoring records of Ohio collegiate gridirers have been compiled, a Miami university star today paced the pack.

Charley Metzger, bulky senior fullback, scored once in Thursday's game against the University of Cincinnati to boost his season aggregate to 60 points and take the title.

Metzger won the crown by the scant margin of three points from Bob Adkins, the hard-running Marshall fullback. Adkins scored twice in his final game to place his aggregate at 57 points. Another Marshall star, Herb Royer, finished third with 55 points.

Metzger is the third Buckeye conference back in history to take the individual scoring championship and his point total was the second lowest ever to win the crown.

The other Buckeye backs to pace the point-makers were George Gorry of the university of Dayton in 1932 with 55 points, the lowest total a winner ever had; and John Turley of Ohio Wesleyan in 1934 and with 92 points.

Five Buckeye conference ball carriers; two from the Ohio conference and three from unaffiliated schools comprised the 10 leading scorers.

The 10 leaders follow:
Player and School TD PA TP
Metzger, Miami 10 0 60
Adkins, Marshall 9 3 57
Royer, Marshall 9 1 55

By BILL BRAUCHER
What Career Lies Ahead for Bill De Correvont? Slippery Hips Don't Always Make a Grid Star With All His Fame Bill Is in a Tough Spot

A GREAT MANY words have been written in praise of 19-year-old Bill De Correvont, Chicago High school star halfback. Probably as many peacocks have been composed about Bill's elusive running, deadly passing and other all-round excellence as were written some years ago about that other great mid-western meteor, Red Grange.

So we are wondering just what Bill is going to do about it. Off-hand, I'd say Bill was in a tough spot, with all these clippings, and with the knowledge that he will receive a rousing welcome at whatever university he chooses next fall. What will be the effect of the pile of publicity Bill has received, reaching from coast to coast? Will it bother him? Will he be inclined to float a little? Or, will he sit down and think it all out and decide that life is much longer and a whole lot more worthwhile than the short football season, or the few years he'll have of college football?

Some young men who had the same kind of head start on the field Bill enjoys now have done pretty well for themselves in college football—and the world. Some others haven't been so hot. Jock Sutherland once told me that one of the greatest players he ever coached, from a standpoint of natural ability, wasn't worth two cents to the Pitt team. Jock said the boy was "overfootballed" in high school, but when he used the word he was being kind. The player he mentioned was a victim of plain, old-fashioned swelled head.

The young man went so far as to tell teammates that Dr. Sutherland didn't teach the kind of football he was used to playing. Jock had the wrong system, I guess. Too bad.

Several years ago Sutherland told me the greatest player he ever had coached was Gibby Welch, and the reason was not so much Gibby's slippery hips as it was his unconquerable heart. Gibby played some of his greatest football when Pitt was losing ball games.

"It wasn't such a great team mechanically in the years Welch was with us," said Sutherland, "and we were beaten a few times. But that lad didn't lose. The worst Gibby ever got from the best teams in the country was a tie. They couldn't lick him."

A lot has been written about Bill De Correvont, but he hasn't started to feel the pressure yet. Wait until he misses. Maybe the line in front of him will have a bad day and his teammates will miss a bunch of blocks. How will Bill take it when he's stopped?

This may sound a little like a coach's pep talk, but as I write I am thinking of hundreds of other high school players who will enter universities all over the country as freshmen next year. None of them has basked in such a brilliant light as that focused on the Chicago boy. Occasional mention in the running story of a game is perhaps all they have received.

Next fall these young men will be just some more freshmen footballers. But Bill De Correvont will be the Chicago Comet, the guy everybody expects to run over them all rough shod. And they'll all be set to smear him.

It's just Bill's hard luck if he can't take it. But we're hoping he can.

Former Buffalo Business Chief Joins Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. Nov. 27—(UP)—Leo T. Miller, for seven years business manager of the Buffalo International League Bisons, has been signed as manager of the Indianapolis American Association baseball team, President Norman A. Perry announced today.

Former Head of Juvenile Court Devotes Address To Human Betterment

Fred G. Bale, of Westerville, lawyer and teacher, who has been secured for a series of lectures by the board of temperance and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, will speak in the Circleville First Methodist church Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

His interest in young people, his experience in one of America's pioneer juvenile courts in Columbus, O., and his intense life-long interest in the welfare against intoxicating liquor led to his enlistment as a speaker on the alcohol problem especially in state teachers' institutes, high schools and youth gatherings.

Discussion of Farms
Another one of the farm boys took us 'down the line' on hybrid corn as compared to the ordinary varieties raised by the farmers of the county. He said hybrid corn is all right in many respects. Does not "go down nearly so bad as the other and is an asset when it comes to getting the crop put into shock."

"Down corn," he said "is hard to get out these days at most any price." The hybrid stands erect, fodder not so large and the "cutters" much prefer it to the other kinds. When it comes to the feeding value he thinks there is little difference. And another thing he is sure of, hybrid requires for a good yield, "strong ground."

"Berger corn" is best for clay, or thin soil. And while he was in a mood to tell about the farm operations, we asked him what one part of farming paid best for the time and labor expended. And without any hesitation said "the dairy cow is the farmer's best investment, is a farm fertility builder and some ready cash always at hand. And don't forget," he said, "that it costs just as much to keep a 'scrub' cow as a good one."

But you are thinking, "who is this farmer who knows so much?" It is Paul Hay, who knows a lot about general farm work and especially good cows and dairying. He is trying horses now and usually has a couple dozen sticking around just in case someone might want one in a hurry. The Hays family sold its dairy to Donald Courtwright who now furnishes Ashville with most of its milk.

YEARBOOK STAFF PROGRESSES WITH RECORD REVISION

Proofs of all senior pictures have been completed and orders for the pictures have been placed. Arthur Steddom, photographer, plans to have the finished portraits ready for Christmas.

The annual staff has made some progress on the revision of the Circle's directory. Class records in the 1938 volume will be carried back to 1858, the first graduating class of Everts High School. Persons who have corrections to make on last year's directory or who may know of alumni who have changed their addresses in the last year are urged to give their information to the Circle staff.

Miss Margaret Mattinson and Robert H. Terhune are the faculty advisers.

HI-Y CLUB READY FOR TICKET SALE

Members of the Hi-Y are selling tickets for the lecture and open forum which the club is sponsoring Friday evening, Dec. 3.

As announced last week George Shinowara will present the Japanese point of view in the present oriental war, and Hanson Liu will represent the Chinese.

The lectures will begin promptly at 7:30 in the High School auditorium. Admission is twenty-five cents.

SKETCH CLUBBERS DRAW FROM LIFE

Charcoal and pencil sketches of Laddie Goeller and Jim Moffitt who posed for Sketch club artists last Monday are now displayed on the art bulletin board in the high school entrance hall.

Monday's group sketching was a step in the club's work on real life drawing.

Sketches posted on the board were those done by Mildred Grose, Emily Gunning, Adabelle May, Ruth Robinson and Frank Beck. A "candid" sketch of Philip Moore was exhibited also. It was drawn at the meeting by Loren Pace, a new member of the club.

STOOGES DISCUSS RE-SODDING FIELD

The Stooze club members were the guests of John Noggle and Joe Smalley at the latter's home Tuesday evening.

During the short business meeting the club discussed the re-sodding of the foot-ball field. The sodding will be done in the Spring if the board of education will permit.

HIGH SCHOOL ART PUPILS WORKING ON PATTERNS

The high school art class is working on surface patterns. The color schemes consist of neutrals: gray, black, and white. Cut-outs were first tried and if these proved to be successful, later the patterns would be worked out in paints. Complementary colors are not good in their full intensity as on color charts. They are beautiful though when grayed. A color is grayed by using its complement which reduces its full intensity. These various patterns can be used for Christmas wrappings, decorations, and box tops.

LIBRARY HAS NEW BOOKS

The high school library was closed to all students Wednesday. New books for geography, history and novels are being ordered over the week-end.

SPRIT PINS ORDERED

Members of the Hi-Y club have sold 179 high school spirit pins. Orders for the school shipment are being taken now.

SR. GIRL RESERVE ARRANGES CHAPEL FOR THANKSGIVING

The Rev. George Troutman delivered the Thanksgiving sermon in a program presented on Wednesday morning by the Senior Girl Reserves in the high school auditorium.

Mr. Troutman told of the hardships suffered by our American pioneers who celebrated the first Thanksgiving Day. He told of the misery and strife in present day Spain and China—the poverty of the masses in many countries of the world today. Mr. Troutman concluded by stating that we in the United States have much for which to be thankful.

Mrs. Irene Jenkins and Mrs. Ernest Tolbert, representing the Daughters of Union Veterans, presented an American flag to the students of the high school. Following this presentation the student body joined in giving the Oath of Allegiance to the Flag.

Mildred Grose read the scripture lesson from the seventeenth chapter of the Gospel of St. Luke. The program opened with the singing by the Girl Reserves choir of the hymns "Worship the King" and "For the Beauty of the Earth" and closed with the singing of "Come Ye Faithful People" and "America." Miss Martha Goeller acted as accompanist.

CONFIDENCE NECESSARY

HIGH BLOOD pressure is not usually a desirable thing in a bridge game. But sometimes it is advisable to use tactics which nearly give that to your partner, until he finds what are the cards upon which you base your action. If you continue to force and force him, with his worthless hand, the question of how badly he is agitated depends solely upon his confidence in you and whether or not he feels sure you have the cards to justify your bids.

When West opened the bidding with 1-Club on this deal in a rubber game, North used unusual tactics to force his partner to decide for him at which suit his slam contract should be played.

Over West's 1-Club, North called

2-Clubs, and East jumped to 5-Clubs. This bid passed around to North, who now bid 6-Clubs. West passed and South called 6-Diamonds. West doubled this and North now bid 7-Clubs. When this came around to South he decided that it was not diamonds his partner was interested in, so tried 7-Hearts.

South, with his apparently worthless cards, explained later that he was far from happy during the proceedings, but the situation righted itself as soon as the dummy was revealed. He, of course, had no difficulty in executing his contract.

ALL CITY EMPLOYEES TO BENEFIT BY RESTORATION OF SALARY SLASHES

HALF OF MONEY TAKEN IN 1933 TO BE REGAINED

Ordinance Naming Firemen and Police Extended To Include Others

NURSES, JANITORS AIDED

Statute Read For Second Time Friday Eve

All city employees who were forced to accept salary reductions in January, 1933, will have one-half of their pay restored to them under arrangements worked out by council Friday night.

An ordinance to restore full salaries to chiefs and members of the police and fire departments was given a second reading, it was referred to Carl C. Leist, solicitor, for revisions to include all employees included in the economy program. Under the ordinance the employees of these two departments would have received $10 more per month.

The new plan will include $5 increases to all employees, including members of the police and fire departments, nurses at Berger hospital and janitors of various city buildings.

Councilmen said they believed it unfair to restore salary cuts to two departments and make no provisions for others. The salary ordinance will be back for a third reading next week. Increases to the city employees would be effective Jan. 1, 1938.

THE RECEPTION COMMITTEE CHOSEN TO GREET THE FELLOW LODGE MEMBERS FROM HOOTSTOWN PUT ON AN IMPRESSIVE SHOW LAST NIGHT

Crowd Expected To See Child League's Play

From all indications, the Child Conservation League presentation "Little Men" will attract a large crowd when it is offered Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Cliftona theatre. All school children who wish to attend the performance will be dismissed from school in time to reach the theatre for the show.

The Conservation League, which has undertaken several splendid projects since its organization, will use any profit gained from the show for re-decoration and re-furnishing the nursery at the Children's Home.

Following is the cast of characters for "Little Men", all actors being from the Clare Tree Major theatre, Chautauqua, New York.

PHILIP HARMON (Nat) began violin lessons at the age of six and has continued his studies for twelve years. His first public appearance was at the age of seven, when he played "Yankee Doodle" at a benefit concert. At the age of eight, he played the Veracini Sonata at a recital of the Combined Music Clubs, and was quite a success. He is well known as a radio performer. Not content with an entirely musical career, he won the local contest for public speaking, held in the North Yarmouth Academy, for two years in succession and was finally chosen to represent the county in the state contest, which he also won. He then took up study for the stage. He played "Sholto" in "The Young Idea", "Bobby" in "Clarence", and "Cosmo" in "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire", and other roles, in Boston. This is his first appearance with the Children's Theatre, in a role particularly suited to his combined musical and dramatic talents.

MACHADO FACES MURDER CHARGE IN CUBAN COURT

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(UP)—General Gerardo Machado, deposed president of Cuba, was under 24-hour guard in Murray Hill hospital today, pending his appearance before U. S. Commissioner Garrett W. Cotten in extradition proceedings instituted by the Cuban government.

Machado, who came to the United States from Canada for an operation, is wanted in Cuba on charges of murder and embezzlement.

Although his attorney, Francis A. O'Neill, former U. S. commissioner, said that he would surrender next week, deputy U. S. Marshals went to the hospital yesterday and served a warrant ordering his appearance at the federal building Monday.

O'Neill said that he would move to dismiss the extradition proceedings. He said the alleged mass murders laid to Machado in 1933 were "deaths due to the exercise of the police power of the then existing government."

Machado had eluded arrest for more than three years.

U. S. CONCILIATOR HOPES TO BRING BUS STRIKE END

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—(UP)—Federal Labor Conciliator John Connor, seeking to settle a strike of bus drivers on eight Greyhound lines in 16 states, hoped to bring union and company representatives together for the first time today.

"Things look pretty good," Connor said, "and there seems to be no hard feelings on either side."

The strike, called by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to enforce demands for higher wages and a closed shop, forced suspension of service in some areas and curtailment in others. There were scattered reports of violence, particularly in Maryland and Massachusetts.

many businessmen, especially those who will pay a considerable portion of the bill as large taxpayers," he said. "You will always find some one who will oppose any improvement."

Meeting Opposed

Neuding's suggestion that another called meeting be held Monday night brought some remarks from Councilman Harry Steinhauer. Steinhauer said he could see no reason for a Monday night meeting when a regular meeting would be held Wednesday night. "Looks like your trying to railroad it," Steinhauer said. Neuding said he would like to see the legislation completed this month. "As far as delays are concerned I think we ought to let council lie down and die," Frank Marion replied.

Mr. Neuding's motion for a called meeting Monday night won a majority of "ayes" and council adjourned.

From all indications the light rate contract will receive a four to three vote. The contract is favored by Leist, Marion, Barnes and Neuding. Gordon and Julius Helwagen have announced they are opposed to the 10-year contract. When asked if he favored the contract, Mr. Helwagen replied, "No sir, not with litigation pending in court on one 10-year contract. This means about $1,000 additional expense a year and I don't know where it's coming from."

Steinhauer has made no comment in council sessions on his position on the contract. He refused to make any statement Friday night. On the residential and commercial rates, passed under a 10-year contract, he joined the opposition.

The new contract includes installation of 60 boulevard lights, similar to those used in Hillsboro, in the downtown district, and re-vamping the lights in outlying districts.

ELLIS ISLAND'S RULING EPISODE IN MAGDA'S LIFE

affair in connection with the late Foreign Minister Aristide Briand.

Briand Foils Her

Admittedly the one-time friend of Paul Boncour who became premier, she is said to have been engaged by an enemy of the late Briand to involve him in a compromising situation. However, Briand was tipped off in time and refused the girl entrance to his home or office. When Magda wrote him letters, he threatened to have her arrested for blackmail.

Next, Mme. de Fontanges is reported having tried a similar scheme in connection with Premier Leon Blum. But the latter, known as an excellent family man, soon proved beyond her reach.

Then came the Mussolini incident.

Magda arrived in Rome in January, 1936, and let II Duce know that she wanted an interview for La Liberte, pro-Fascist paper she was then connected with.

II Duce was too busy to see her. But Magda did not give up. Once, at a demonstration, she crowded close enough to toss an orange at II Duce while other women were raining flowers at him. II Duce saw her and supposedly gave her several interviews or audiences after that.

Then, however, she made the mistake of boasting of her reputed conquest to Count Charles de Chambrun, who was France's ambassador at Rome. Count Chambrun did what he considered his duty. He went to II Duce. And II Duce evidently gave Magda no more interviews.

Attempts Suicide

That was in July, 1936. Magda thereupon took an overdose of a narcotic at a Rome hotel, but was rescued. Next, she was ordered to leave Italy—but at the railway station she was given $790 by a Fascist official for "expensures."

Magda became possessed of a hatred for Count de Chambrun. The climax came last March 17 when she shot Chambrun just as he was about to board an express train in Paris for Brussels. But Chambrun, hit in the groin, quickly recovered.

Following Magda's arrest, police confiscated her highly colorful diary in which she had recorded highlights of her life. The authorities vainly tried to hush up the diary. The case, however, already had gained too much notoriety.

Last July 29 Magda was tried for the shooting of Chambrun. She was convicted but her sentence of one year in jail was suspended.

Undaunted, Magda tried a new coup. She planned to go to Spain in order to "interview" the rebel leader, General Franco.

Plans Go Wrong

But she was turned back at the Spanish border. Thus she found herself back at Montmartre.

Then came an offer from New York. Following a stormy crossing Mme. de Fontanges found that the U. S. immigration authorities did not look with favor upon her American plans. She was charged with "moral turpitude," for having attempted to kill Chambrun.

MOVE TO RAISE PEOPLE'S BUYING POWER IS URGED

Mass Purchasing Stressed As Federation Drafts Major Program

federation recommended "special measures . . . to make credit available to business."

4. Improvement of labor's buying power by prompt payment of unemployment compensation when it begins in 22 states next January.

5. Action on "measures to promote business confidence."

6. Improvement of employer-employee relations through management recognition of unions, and union co-operation "to cut costs by improving efficiency."

Plan Most Extensive

The federation's plan to aid industrial recovery was the most extensive to date to originate in labor circles.

John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, in a copyrighted interview with the publisher of the Washington Herald yesterday, said that he favored a broad scale housing program to be financed with social security reserves.

The proposed program of the A. F. of L. was announced coincidentally with a report from Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins that construction activity had slumped further in October.

Regarded as one of the best barometers of economic health, the industry slackened four percent from September, as measured by permit valuations, and was five percent under that of October, 1936.

Other significant statistics included the continued downward trend of revenue freight loadings and the maintenance of steel operations below 35 percent of capacity.

But the A. F. of L. was optimistic about the general long-range outlook. It described the present business set-back as temporary.

"This Fall's unexpected recession in business activity," the federation said, "follows the longest production rise since 1929 . . ."

"The present decline appears to be a temporary check in our progress toward larger production volumes and higher standards of living, while business waits for accumulated supplies to be bought off."
